

THIS WEEK AT THE CENTER FOR ETHICS*

Friday, November 20, 2009

Thesis Completed

- Thesis Defense for Mohd Asmadzy Ahmad Basra, was successfully defended on November 19, 11:30 a..m. Asmadzy's thesis title: "The effects of an outdoor adventure program on the self-esteem of Malaysian young adults enrolled in a 5-day outdoor adventure program". Mr. Basra is a SLAI Fellow from Malaya University to pursue his Master's. Mr. Basra will continue on with his doctorate. He has not made a decision where, he has numerous offers from Scotland, Germany, and France.

Data Out

- Data was sent out to Montana State University. Montana State is one of Winning With Character's clients. The Center for ETHICS is contracted by WWC to evaluate pretest, post test data on moral reasoning of clients involved with the WWC curriculum.

Contract Awarded

- *The Center for ETHICS* has received a contract with the University of Iowa, Dr Amukela Gwebu, who won a grant with World Anti Doping Agency to develop a curriculum and evaluation tool for anti-doping education for elite athletes.*

Blog Out

- Dr. Justin Barnes – Dr. Stoll's 19th doctorate student, wrote the blog for the Center, "Soccer Violence". <http://ethicswithdoc.blogspot.com>

Toronto Tribune

- Dr. Stoll was interviewed by the Toronto Tribune for a news story on the French Soccer Team whose player Thierry Henry handled the ball to set up the deciding goal in extra time, ending Ireland's bid for the World Cup tournament in South Africa.

Up Coming Events

- Dr. Stoll has been invited by Phi Kappa Phi to attend the national convention in August of 2010, all expenses paid, to represent the University of Idaho Chapter as an outstanding chapter of merit. Dr. Stoll is president of Phi Kappa Phi, Chapter 79.
- Dr. Jennifer M. Beller – affiliate member of the Center and Associate Professor at Washington State University, has been asked to speak at the Fourth Annual Pacific Lutheran University Wang Center for Global Education 2010 International Symposium Understanding the World Through Sports and Recreation Thursday and Friday, March 4 and 5, 2010. Dr. Beller will be speaking on the intersection between performance enhancing drugs in sport and the use of performance enhancing measures by the boomer generation.