

IN BRIEF: THIS WEEK AT THE CENTER FOR ETHICS*

Friday, June 29, 2012

The Center for ETHICS at the University of Idaho offers study, intervention, outreach, consultation, and leadership in developing and advancing the theory, knowledge and understanding of character education including moral and ethical reasoning, moral development, ethical leadership, and ethical application. The Director of the Center is Dr. Sharon Kay Stoll http://www.educ.uidaho.edu/center_for_ethics Newsletter is on hiatus; but weekly or twice monthly updates will be sent out to keep our supporters abreast of what is occurring at the Center. This is a brief synopsis of the week's happening while Newsletter.*

The Center received a request for information on servant leadership from Kharazmi University, Tehran, Iran. The researcher there, Shiva Azadfada, is studying "The relationship between servant leadership, team effectiveness, and team performance in Iranian men's volleyball super league teams. The Center houses the largest depository of information on moral reasoning for competitive populations in the world today.

Seth Haselhuhn with Dr. Damon Burton had a manuscript "Creating Consistent Hitters: A Growth Hitting System Approach to Promote a Mastery Climate in Collegiate Baseball" accepted pending revisions to the Journal of Sport Psychology in Action. The Journal of Sport Psychology in Action is the official journal of the Association for Applied Sport Psychology (AASP). Seth Haselhuhn is Dr. Stoll's 25th doctoral student.

The Center received a request for information on our intervention programs from the Director of Athletics at Finger Lakes Community College, Canandaigua, NY.

The Center for ETHICS* and The World Anti-Doping Agency (WADA) are working on a collaborative education project, Competing with Honor: To Dope or Not to Dope. One of the projects goals is to educate high-level athletes on the value competing drug free. Upon successful completion of the initial project the course will become part of WADA's educational curriculum. If you would like to have your athletes participate in the project please contact Dr. Stoll at (ssoll@uidaho.edu).
