

The Center for ETHICS* at the University of Idaho offers study, intervention, outreach, consultation, and leadership in developing and advancing the theory, knowledge and understanding of character education including moral and ethical reasoning, moral development, ethical leadership, and ethical application. The Director of the Center for ETHICS* is Dr. Sharon Kay Stoll.

Ethical Theory and Honor in Competition and Sport

PhD Student to present in Wisconsin

PhD Student Kevin Bryant will be the keynote speaker at the 2014 Wisconsin State Athletic Director Conference this weekend in Wisconsin Dells, WI.

Bryant, K., (2014, November 9). Why survive when you can thrive as a high school athletic director? Wisconsin Athletic Directors Association Annual Conference, Wisconsin Dells, WI.

Brad Dieter begins as Post-Doctoral Fellow

Brad Dieter, Ph.D., Dr. Stoll's 27th completed doctoral student, began his Post-Doctoral Fellowship at Providence Health & Services this month. He tells us that he loves what he is doing. Providence Health & Services is the third largest not-for-profit health system in the United States.

International Association of the Philosophy of Sport

Dr. Stoll sits as the editor of the International Association of the Philosophy of Sport. She submitted the October, 2014 edition that can be found at <http://iaps.net/wp-content/uploads/2009/01/IAPS-Newsletter-October-2014.pdf>. IAPS is committed to stimulate, encourage, and promote research, scholarship, and teaching in the philosophy of sport and related practices. To do so, IAPS organizes an annual conference and publishes a newsletter as well as the Journal of the Philosophy of Sport, which is widely acknowledged as the most respected medium for communicating contemporary philosophic thought with regard to sport. IAPS members are found all over the world and constitute a growing and vibrant international community of scholars and teachers.