

The Center for ETHICS* at the University of Idaho offers study, intervention, outreach, consultation, and leadership in developing and advancing the theory, knowledge and understanding of character education including moral and ethical reasoning, moral development, ethical leadership, and ethical application. The Director of the Center for ETHICS* is Dr. Sharon Kay Stoll.

Ethical Theory and Honor in Competition and Sport

Dissertation Defense

Bradley Deiter, Dr. Stoll's 27th doctoral student, will be defending his dissertation, "A Pedagogical and Physiological Approach to Treating Type 2 Diabetes," Monday, September 22, at 9 a.m. in TLC 246

Western Society for Kinesiology and Wellness

Dr. Stoll will be attending the 2014 Western Society for Kinesiology and Wellness, October 8-10, 2014 in Reno Nevada. Dr. Stoll will be participating in two different panels.

Holt, B., Osterello, J., Bruya, L., & Stoll, S.K. (2014). The Danger of Socialized Conformity to Intellectual Diversity in Kinesiology.

Beller, J.M., Casten, C., Shifflet, B., Shimon, Stoll, S.K., Y Van Mullem, H. (2014). Lessons from the trenches: tips and strategies for succeeding in academia.

WSKW's annual conference attracts leading professionals in the fields of kinesiology and wellness. It offers all participants the opportunity to learn about and present scholarship, while developing strong professional relationships in a personal atmosphere. Our host city of Reno, the "Biggest Little City in the World," is known for its temperate climate, entertainment, and fine dining. Historically, the ethos for the WSKW conference has been represented by the phrase, "Where the conferee is the program and mentoring and networking are the foundation."

Phi Kappa Phi Induction ceremony

Phi Kappa Phi at the University of Idaho has set its initiation ceremony for November 13 in the Vandal Ballroom. Dr. Stoll has served as the president of Phi Kappa Phi at Idaho for several years. In 1897 at the University of Maine, ten senior students, two faculty members, and the school president created an honor society that was different from the few others then in existence—one that recognized and honored excellence in all academic disciplines. Under the leadership of undergraduate student Marcus L. Urann, the group formed the Lambda Sigma Eta Society, which was later renamed Phi Kappa Phi from the initial letters of the Greek words forming its adopted motto: Philosophia Krateito Photōn, "Let the love of learning rule humanity." Phi Kappa Phi's mission is "To recognize and promote academic excellence in all fields of higher education and to engage the community of scholars in service to others."

Dr. Stoll to Represent Kent State

Dr. Stoll is representing her master's and doctoral Alma Mater Kent State University at today's U of I Presidential inauguration. Dr. Stoll was contacted by Kent State University President Beverly Warren's office, "As is standard at Universities across the country, President's from other Universities are invited to the inaugurations of new University President's. Unfortunately, Kent State University President, Beverly Warren will be unable to attend this inauguration due to a prior commitment. As a KSU alum, we were wondering if you might be available to attend the Inauguration of Dr. Chuck Staben, Ph.D. on Friday, September 19th at 1:25 PM? We noticed that you are also a Professor at the University and thought it might be a possibility that you would be able to attend the event to represent Kent State University."

Dr. Stoll in the Press

Dr. Stoll was featured in an article in Bloomsberg News published in The Globe.

Gloster, R. (2014). NFL Wobbles as abuse to concussions steal football's headlines. The Globe and Mail. Retrieved from <http://www.theglobeandmail.com/sports/football/nfl-wobbles-as-abuse-to-concussions-steal-football-headlines/article20593978/>