

Ethical Theory and Honor in Competition and Sport

RIGHT WRONG

The Center for ETHICS* at the University of Idaho offers study, intervention, outreach, consultation, and leadership in developing and advancing the theory, knowledge and understanding of character education including moral and ethical reasoning, moral development, ethical leadership, and ethical application. The Director of the Center for ETHICS* is Dr. Sharon Kay Stoll.

Dr. Stoll is working with Craig Laskowski, graduate student at Greenville College, on a capstone project. The project will incorporate an assessment using the HBVCI as well as the character education program as an intervention.

Dr. Seth Haselhuhn, Dr. Stoll's 25th doctoral student, has been awarded the Rising Star Young Alumni Award from Lewis-Clark State College. The award recognizes an individual who has set standards of excellence and serves as a role model who inspires others. Due to his education at the University of Idaho in Psychology and Philosophy in Sport, Dr. Haselhuhn is currently the cognitive enhancement specialist providing performance psychology and mental skills training for the 5th Special Forces Group (Airborne) at Fort Campbell, Kentucky. Dr. Haselhuhn is the first and only professional to provide this training in the country.
