

Ethical Theory and Honor in Competition and Sport

RIGHT WRONG

The Center for ETHICS* at the University of Idaho offers study, intervention, outreach, consultation, and leadership in developing and advancing the theory, knowledge and understanding of character education including moral and ethical reasoning, moral development, ethical leadership, and ethical application. The Director of the Center for ETHICS* is Dr. Sharon Kay Stoll.

Dr. Stoll finished a review for Quest. Dr. Stoll sits on editorial board for the national Association for Kinesiology in Higher Education. The mission of NAKHE is to foster leadership in kinesiology administration and policy as it relates to teaching, scholarship and service in higher education. The International Journal of Kinesiology in Higher Education is a FREE publication for the NAKHE membership, and is a forum for interdisciplinary ideas, concepts, and issues related to the role of kinesiology and physical education in higher education with respect for social, cultural, and personal perspectives.

Publication available:

Calmeiro, L., Stoll, S. K., & Davis, P. \(2015\). Moral Reasoning in Sport: Validation of the Portuguese Version of the RSBH Value-Judgement Inventory in Adolescents. Sport Science Review, 24\(5-6\), 285-304.

Luis Calmeiro did his master's at Idaho under Dr. Damon Burton and took classes with Dr. Stoll. Paul Davis, Ph.D. is with the University of Sunderland, Darwin, UK. Luis received his Ph.D. in Sport Psychology from Florida State University.

Dr. Stoll has been invited to write a 1000 word essay on an ethical issue in competitive sports (any level) concerning a real-life or controversial issue that will resonate with readers. She is asked to provide a balanced analysis that explores the pros and cons or why reasonable individuals might choose to support or oppose a specific action or controversial issue. Dr. Stoll has chosen: Why Deflagate matters.... Moral controversy in the present world of gaining advantage. The essay is due May 1, 2016 for inclusion in Modern Sports Ethics: A reference handbook., editor, Angela Lumpkin, Ph.D

Up Coming Events

Kevin Bryant, Dr. Stoll's 32nd doctoral student, will be speaking at the PEMCO All-Sports clinic in Seattle, Washington on February 12th-14th. Kevin will have 7 presentations to high school athletic directors over the two days.