

Ethical Theory and Honor in Competition and Sport

RIGHT WRONG

The Center for ETHICS* at the University of Idaho offers study, intervention, outreach, consultation, and leadership in developing and advancing the theory, knowledge and understanding of character education including moral and ethical reasoning, moral development, ethical leadership, and ethical application. The Director of the Center for ETHICS* is Dr. Sharon Kay Stoll.

Dr. Stoll along with her two of her doctoral students, Marcis Fennell (37th) and Aubrey Shaw (38th) will be presenting at the Western Society for Kinesiology & Wellness 61st annual conference in Reno, NV, October 12th-14th, 2016.

Shaw, A. & Stoll, S.K. (2016). Making play a positive inclusive experience for differently abled students, athletes, and patients. 61st Annual Conference, Western Society for Kinesiology & Wellness, Reno, NV.

Fennell, M. & Stoll, S.K. (2016). Can diversity actually cause exclusion? 61st Annual Conference, Western Society for Kinesiology & Wellness, Reno, NV

The Center for ETHICS* affiliate faculty, Dr. Slava Popvosky released his 2015-2016 annual academic report which can found at the Center for ETHICS*. Dr. Popvosky is a member of a collaborative, cross sector, inter-university team, I've contributed to ongoing pedagogical/educational, (initially) NSF-funded, research exploring transitioning America's veterans and serviceman into academic programs in order to prepare them for careers in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM). This study was funded by VetsEngr. Results were published in the book:

Shoemaker, D. and Endicott-Popovsky, B., eds. (Spring 2015). Educational Approaches to Transition Former Military Personnel into the Cybersecurity Field. Special Edition of The Colloquium for Information System Security Education (CISSE), CISSE Edition 2, Issue 2.

Sean Kenney of the Lincoln Center for Applied Ethics, Arizona State University, has been in contact with the Center concerning our curriculum for intervention programs in college sports. We look forward to working with the Lincoln Center for Applied Ethics.

Up Coming Events

Dr. Stoll's 37th doctoral student, Marcis Fennell, will be guest lecturing at the University of Central Florida to two undergraduate Intro to Sport Business and Diversity courses within the DeVos program on November 2nd 2016.

Dr. Stoll's 37th doctoral student, Marcis Fennell, will be attending the North American Society for the Sociology of Sport annual national convention in Tampa Bay, FL on November 2nd-5th, 2016.