

Ethical Theory and Honor in Competition and Sport

RIGHT WRONG

The Center for ETHICS* at the University of Idaho offers study, intervention, outreach, consultation, and leadership in developing and advancing the theory, knowledge and understanding of character education including moral and ethical reasoning, moral development, ethical leadership, and ethical application. The Director of the Center for ETHICS* is Dr. Sharon Kay Stoll.

Dr. Keith Harrison was guest lecturer in two of Dr. Stoll's classes, ISEM 101-31 Sport and American Society and MVSC 570 Introduction to Quantitative Research on August 31 and September 1. The students found Dr. Harrison to be engaging, interesting, and enjoyable. Of the 24 students in 101, each one said they enjoyed his presentation and noted two distinct things that they learned from his presentation. He was engaging and they all had a voice in the lecture, and they learned about the Scholar-Baller program that Dr. Harrison has initiated through the NCAA. To learn more about Scholar-Baller, please see the following link:

<http://scholarballer.org/>

Dr. Stoll's book review of the Routledge handbook of the philosophy of sport is now available at <http://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/00948705.2016.1224089>.

Dr. Peter Van Mullem informed us that the coaching panel session audio from the National Coaching conference this past June is not featured on PHE America: : <http://www.pheamerica.org/2016/2016-national-coaching-conference-pursuing-mastery-in-coaching-insight-from-5-perspectives/> Dr. Steven Jeffers, a panel member and former president of SHAPE America, was the intermediary who made this happen. SHAPE America – Society of Health and Physical Educators is committed to ensuring all children have the opportunity to lead healthy, physically active lives. As the nation's largest membership organization of health and physical education professionals, SHAPE America works with its 50 state affiliates and national partners to support initiatives such as the Presidential Youth Fitness Program. PHE, Physical and Health Education America, is a non-profit dedicated to promoting active and healthy lifestyles.

Up Coming Events

Dr. Stoll along with her two of her doctoral students, Marcis Fennell (37th) and Aubrey Shaw (38th) will be presenting at the Western Society for Kinesiology & Wellness 61st annual conference in Reno, NV, October 12th-14th, 2016.

Dr. Stoll's 37th doctoral student, Marcis Fennell, will be guest lecturing at the University of Central Florida to two undergraduate Intro to Sport Business and Diversity courses within the DeVos program on November 2nd 2016.

Dr. Stoll's 37th doctoral student, Marcis Fennell, will be attending the North American Society for the Sociology of Sport annual national convention in Tampa Bay, FL on November 2nd-5th, 2016.