PROGRAM IN AMERICAN INDIAN STUDIES

1. Add the following courses:

   AIST 110 Community Building (1 cr)
   This course is aimed towards first generation college students from indigenous communities. This course helps students build community support through existing programs at the university and facilitates students’ connections with their tribal cultures. It also helps students develop good study habits and build study skills.

   Available via distance: No
   Geographical Area: Moscow
   Rationale: A version of this course is currently being offered for INSTEP (Indigenous Nations Scholars Training for Excellence Program) students as an INTR special topics course. As the course material has been deemed appropriate for the AIST program vision by the AIST curriculum committee and affiliate faculty, this course will be offered under the AIST prefix.
   As the class is currently being taught by the Native American Student Center (NASC) instructors, there will be no additional instructor responsibilities to that AIST program.

   AIST 111 Intro to Success (1 cr)
   This course assists each student’s academic, cultural, and social adjustment to the University. The course is also designed to provide supportive tools and resources to each student to ensure they are maximizing their ability. The course will focus on a few of the topic areas: time management, organization skills, tribal issues and tribal governmental structures, importance of diversity, learning styles, budgeting, and test taking.

   Available via distance: No

   Rationale: A version of this course is currently being offered for INSTEP (Indigenous Nations Scholars Training for Excellence Program) students as an INTR special topics course. As the course material has been deemed appropriate for the AIST program vision by the AIST curriculum committee and affiliate faculty, this course will be offered under the AIST prefix.
   As the class is currently being taught by the Native American Student Center (NASC) instructors, there will be no additional instructor responsibilities to that AIST program.

   AIST 210 Native Identities (3 cr)
   This course is intended to develop a dynamic modern understanding of indigenous communities and self. The class will focus on such themes as family, history, blood & kinship, colonization, treaty rights and sovereignty, land and linguistics.

   Available via distance: No
   Geographical Area: Moscow
Rationale: A version of this course is currently being offered for INSTEP (Indigenous Nations Scholars Training for Excellence Program) students as an INTR special topics course. As the course material has been deemed appropriate for the AIST program vision by the AIST curriculum committee and affiliate faculty, this course will be offered under the AIST prefix. As the class is currently being taught by the Native American Student Center (NASC) instructors, there will be no additional instructor responsibilities to that AIST program.

AIST 244 (s) Tribal Elders Series (3 cr, max 9)

This course is intended to share information from the neighboring tribes surrounding the University of Idaho. Elders from these communities will share a tribal epistemology that each tribe considers to be essential to an education of an adult. Such educational perspective may often be missing/misrepresented or misunderstood in current university pedagogy. This class will place an emphasis on contemporary indigenous voices. This course will have a subtopic heading to incorporate the possibility of having many neighboring tribes participate.

Available via distance: No
Geographical Area: Moscow
Rationale: This class has already been offered as a special topics course and therefore does not impact faculty workload.

AIST 412 Tribal Governance (3 cr)

This course is intended to impart an understanding of the vitality and rich diversity of contemporary American Indian societies, their histories, and their literatures, e.g., in the arts and expressive culture, governmental affairs both indigenous and external, economics, ecological relations and natural resources, health care, and family, social and religious life, oral traditions, world views and cultural values. This understanding is inclusive of both indigenous cultural and contact-historical expressions. An understanding of Tribal sovereignty and its varied meanings is key to this outcome.

Prereq: AIST 210

Available via distance: No
Geographical Area: Moscow

2. Change the following course:

AIST 344 Indigenous Epistemologies, Ways of Knowing/Knowledge Systems (3 cr)

The course is intended as an introduction to issues of cultural, racial, ethnic and linguistic diversity that arise in American school and society. In particular we will be looking at indigenous epistemological comparison with Western educational models. The central question for the course will be: Why is educational attainment different for different groups in society, and how does that difference relate to social stratification characteristics of the larger society? We will also try to answer other questions: What is the impact of cultural and linguistic diversity on the various institutions of society, including family, schools, and the economic system? What policies and programs have been developed in the US and other societies to deal with cultural diversities? These and other questions will be the basis for our reading and discussions.

Available via distance: No
Geographical Area: Moscow
Rationale: This title change is to clarify course content for students.

Courses to total 18 credits for this minor Distance Education: 50% or more of curricular requirements cannot be completed via distance

Geographical Area: Moscow

Rationale: The changes to American Indian Studies (AIS) minor reflect the inclusion of classes developed by new faculty that fit the vision statement of AIS.
The additions will be assessed as follows:
1.) Learn and integrate- Identify knowledge and intelligence as being culturally dependent and valued within educational structures. (In-class activities, discussion boards and short response papers).
2.) Clarify purpose and perspective- Examine unique issues for indigenous students/communities in regards to equitable access to education. (In-class activities, discussion boards and short response papers).
3.) Practice citizenship- Analyze culturally relevant education models. (In-class activities, discussion boards and short response papers).

These courses will be assessed as part of ongoing program assessment.

ENGLISH
1. Add the following courses:

ENGL 290 Introduction to Creative Writing (3 cr)
Introduction to Creative Writing gives students practice closely reading and writing their own short samples of three genres of creative writing: poetry, fiction, and nonfiction. Emphasis is on the craft of writing these genres, explored through a range of sample readings and writing exercises, in both a lecture class and weekly small-group sessions. This class prepares students for any intermediate-level creative writing course.

Available via distance: No
Geographical Area: Moscow

Rationale: This course will give students initial understanding of and practice in all three genres the major currently includes (poetry, fiction, nonfiction), rather than requiring them to choose a genre at the outset (as the current sequences of 200-, 300-, and 400-level classes require). This will appeal to students who have time to take only one creative writing class, and make it easier for majors or potential majors to move to the intermediate level (as 290 will count in place of 291/2/3), remedying the frequent problem of students having a schedule conflict with an intro class and then getting a semester/year behind in that sequence, or discovering only at the end of their degree that they love a genre they hadn’t yet taken. This course will also provide TA mentoring (as core faculty will work with TAs, who will lead break-out sessions). This is all part of English Department efforts to boost undergrad enrollments in English and help streamline students' progress toward their degree. It will require no additional faculty.

ENGL 382 Queer Literature (3 cr)
Comparative study of significant LGBTQ+ texts, topics, and writers, with emphasis on understanding the queer experience inherent in landmark works of fiction, poetry, nonfiction, and drama.
Prereq: Engl 102

Available via distance: Yes
Geographical Area: Moscow, CDA
Rationale: It’s important for students to understand the complexities of gender and sexuality in literature, particularly as it represents and shapes LGBTQ communities. Because literature has long been viewed as a home and center of queer studies, this course is designed to attract students to the study of sexuality and gender, particularly the literary representation of queer experiences and queer bodies.

This is part of English Department efforts to boost undergrad enrollments and help streamline students’ progress toward their degrees. The course also has the added benefit of supporting the newly proposed Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies major. It will also make us more competitive with other area undergraduate programs that already consider such themes in their pursuit of literary scholarship. The course draws on the expertise of our most recent hires and will require no additional faculty.

EDCI 485  Secondary Internship  15 cr
Fulfills Capstone for Teaching Emphasis major.

One course from the following:
EDCI 485  Secondary Internship  15 cr
ENGL 490  Senior Seminar  3 cr

Students who seek to fulfill requirements for teaching certification must complete the EDCI 485 Secondary Internship. Students who decide not to complete the secondary teaching internship must complete ENGL 490 Senior Seminar and may fulfill any remaining credits with electives.

Courses to total 120 credits for this degree

Available via distance: More than 50% of curricular requirements cannot be completed via distance

Geographical Area: Moscow

Rationale: We would like to change the catalog language in the Teaching Emphasis to provide a clear option for students who decide not to complete their student teaching, and therefore are not planning to take EDCI 485, but plan to take Engl 490 instead, and have that substitute for the capstone requirement. Right now, that substitution can be done on a case by case basis, but it would be better to have it clearly stated in the catalog.

We acknowledge the vast difference in number of credits between these two capstone courses. However, it is our experience that students in the Teaching Emphasis decide not to student teach as they approach their senior year. Students in the Teaching Emphasis typically complete 16 credits in education coursework by their 7th semester on campus. These education credits, consisting most often of the courses listed below, are required for teacher certification, but they are not required for the Teaching Emphasis degree. These 16 credits, in combination with the 3 credits earned in ENGL 490, should give students the number of credits required for graduation. If this is not the case, elective credits can be used to fill any credits needed to graduate.

- ENGL 290 Introduction to Creative Writing 3 cr

And then a full numerical sequence in two genres (ex. 391 and 491; plus 392 and 492), and at least one intermediate course in a third genre (ex. 393) (15 cr):

Courses to total 120 credits for this degree

Available via distance: More than 50% of curricular requirements cannot be completed via distance

Geographical Area: Moscow

Rationale: Adding 290 will give students initial understanding of and practice in the three main genres the department offers—poetry, fiction, and nonfiction—rather than requiring them to choose a genre at the outset (as the current sequences of 200-, 300-, and 400-level classes require). This will appeal to students who want to take only one creative writing class, and make it easier for majors or minors to move to the intermediate level (as 290 will count in place of 291/2/3), remedying the frequent problem of students having a schedule conflict with an intro class and then getting a semester/year behind in that sequence, or discovering at the end of their degree that they love a genre they hadn't yet taken. This is all part of English Department efforts to boost undergrad enrollments and help streamline students' progress toward their degree. It will also make us more competitive with other area undergraduate programs. Using 290 as the first course in multiple sequences will allow students more exposure to intermediate/advanced writing for the same number of credits. This change will also provide TA mentoring (as core faculty will work with TAs, who will lead break-out sessions). It will require no additional faculty.

Students will be assessed via departmental assessment measures.

4. Make the following changes to the Major in English (M.A.):

Thesis and Non-Thesis Options:

The thesis option requires 27 credits of coursework and 6 thesis credits, leading to the submission of an acceptable thesis of 60 pages or more. See the College of Graduate Studies "Graduate Handbook for Theses and Dissertations."
The non-thesis option requires 30 credits of coursework and 3 research credits (ENGL 599). The student works with a faculty member to produce a revised seminar paper suitable to be submitted for publication, an abstract for the paper, a concise explanation of initial and additional research and revisions (3-5 pages), and a substantial annotated bibliography of work in the field.

For both the thesis and non-thesis options, each student will take an oral M.A. examination following completion of work submitted in acceptable form, as confirmed by the major professor. The oral examination will be designed to test the student's ability to defend his or her work articulately with respect to research methodology, critical perspective, and applicability to related work in the area.

Students and their major professors and committees will design their programs.

Theses or papers may address topics in literature and literary theory and criticism or composition and rhetorical theory.

Candidates for the master's degree in English are required to demonstrate reading proficiency in one of the following languages: French, German, Italian, Latin, Classical Greek, Spanish, or Russian.

Distance availability: 50% or more of curricular requirements cannot be completed via distance

Geographical Area Availability: Moscow

Rationale: The language requirement does not service more traditional MA-Eng students who enter the program not having demonstrated reading proficiency in their Bachelor’s degree, as it increases their financial burden, introduces scheduling conflicts with 500-level ENGL seminars, and is not part of necessary preparation for the careers that they tend to pursue. In 2014 the English department stopped offering a Master’s of Arts in Teaching English, a degree typically pursued by K-12 teachers in the state of Idaho. Since then the department has made changes to the MA-Eng degree to service this population of students. Reading comprehension in a second language is often a prohibitive degree requirement for these students, and thus a major obstacle for their enrollment in the degree. It is for these reasons that the English department unanimously approved a motion to drop this curricular requirement.

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES
1. Add the following courses:

IS 225 International Environmental Issues Seminar (3 cr)
See Envs 225.

Available via distance: No
Geographical Area Availability: Moscow
Rationale: The addition of a new faculty member in the department has freed up one class each Spring, and this partnership between two Interdisciplinary programs has become possible. Cross-listing with IS will permit the teaching to remain part of the unit’s efforts and ultimately serve both IS and EnvS students while also permitting IS to track credit production/have this acknowledged.
IS 384 African Politics (3 cr)
Exploration of the politics of African countries, beginning with the historical roots of colonialism and decolonization, but concentrating on contemporary issues of state building, war and conflict, development, democratization, and international and regional relations.

Available via distance: No
Geographical Area Availability: Moscow
Rationale: This is a specialization of a newly-hired faculty member, and will be taught as part of their regular load. It also fits into both the African regional emphasis within International Studies, the Comparative and International Politics emphasis within Political Science, and into Africana Studies.

IS 441 International Protection of Human Rights (3 cr)
Focus on the law and politics of international human rights, examining the various actors involved in the promotion of human rights around the globe, and exploring competing conceptions of human rights, whether human rights are universal, problems of enforcement, and the role of human rights in foreign policy.

Available via distance: No
Geographical Area Availability: Moscow
Rationale: This is a specialization of a newly-hired faculty member, and will be taught as part of their regular load. It also fits into two IS issue emphases and complements coursework in Political Science, Philosophy, Sociology, Women’s Studies, Africana Studies, Latin American Studies, and other fields.

2. Make the following curricular changes to the Major in International Studies (B.A.):

At least 12 cr from one of the following regional emphases: Latin America and the Caribbean, Europe, Asia, Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America and the Caribbean, and North America. Courses must be approved by the student’s departmental advisor.

Modern Foreign Language Proficiency (0-22 cr)
Demonstrated proficiency in a modern foreign language correlating with the region of emphasis and equivalent to that gained from six semesters of university study. Exceptions include any class taught in English. Primary instruction in any class counting towards this requirement must be in the target language. (0-22 cr)

International Experience
In addition, international experience in the student's region of emphasis is required for all students in this major. The experience must extend consecutively for at least 8 weeks, be qualified for at least 12 credits, and include an academic project or assignment and immersion in the culture of the country. All costs associated with the international experience are the responsibility of the student. The requirement of international experience will normally be fulfilled by completing a registered credit program such as study abroad, student exchange, student teaching, internship, or a Faculty-Staff Led International Trip for 8 weeks minimum. In general, credits are registered on the UI campus; course work and field experience are taken abroad.

In some cases, permission may be granted to complete noncredit work experience that places the student abroad for a contracted length of time. Normally this work assignment will be completed during the degree program. In some instances, prior work experience may be accepted based on the following criteria: verification, length, nature, recentness, and relevancy of experience.

Courses to total 120 credits for this degree
Other courses with an international component may be used as electives with permission of the program director.

Distance Education: 50% or more of curricular requirements cannot be completed via distance

Geographical Availability: Moscow

Rationale: The BA in International Studies requires students to select a regional emphasis (12 credits) that is tied to their language study (6 credits past CLASS BA requirements): these are Europe, Latin America and the Caribbean, and the unwieldy Asia/Africa. The latter acknowledged the paucity of course offerings in Asia and Africa at UI – students often struggled to get enough classes – but this is no longer the case, and our first proposal here is to divide out Asia and Africa as separate regional emphases. We have also accommodated international students studying IS at UI with an ad-hoc regional emphasis in North America, and in keeping with a recommendation from our External Review Team (2016), along with a desire to formally recruit an international student population, our second proposal is to add North America as a new regional emphasis, limited to international students.

As for dropping all classes and shifting to a “as approved by advisor” model for the issue emphasis, this is two-fold: students are concerned when they look at study abroad programs but don’t see pre-approved courses offered there listed on their Degree Audit, and we and our students struggle to keep up with changing curricula and special topics offered in partner departments (where changes are often not communicated to us). Similarly, degrees such as Africana Studies and Latin American Studies offer classes that sometimes work toward a regional emphasis and sometimes don’t (content can be US-based, internationally-based, or both), which further complicates things (especially something like Hispanic Film, which one year is US-based, then the next year all about South America). It is extremely rare for a student to complete this requirement without at least two regional emphasis course substitutions as-is, and we hope this will result in less confusion.

JOURNALISM AND MASS MEDIA

1. Add the following courses:

   JAMM 446 Women in the Media (3 cr)
   Examines the spaces that women occupy in the media, both in front of and behind the camera. Focuses on feminist critiques of the media and issues of representation in a variety of mediums and topics (film, television, print, news, advertising).
   Prereq: JAMM 100 with a grade of ‘C’ or better and JAMM 121 with a grade of ‘C’ or better and JAMM 122 with a grade of ‘C’ or better.

   Available via distance: No
   Geographical Area: Moscow
   Rationale: This course has been offered successfully as a special topic course and adds to diversity offerings as a JAMM elective. The course contributes to fulfilling ACEJMC accreditation requirements to address diversity across the curriculum.

   JAMM 491 Multimedia Storytelling Abroad (3 cr)
   Covers foundational media skills in photography, audio, video, social media, and content management, using an organized international travel experience as the inspiration for each student’s media production.
   Prereq: Permission

   Available via distance: No
   Geographical Area: Moscow
   Rationale: This course has been offered successfully as a special topics course over the summer and provides an opportunity for international experience within the JAMM major. Because it is typically offered as a summer course, it will not add to the existing workload of faculty.

2. Change the following courses:

   JAMM 323 Broadcast Sports Reporting (3 cr, max 6)
   Sports reporting for television, radio and the Internet; emphasizes writing, editing, producing, camera work and on-air performance skills. Focus on interviews, team coverage, game highlights.
   Recommended Preparation: JAMM 322. (Fall only)
   Prereq: JAMM 100, JAMM 121, and JAMM 122 with grades of ‘C’ or better; and JAMM 225 and/or JAMM 275; or Permission
Available via distance: No
Geographical Area: Moscow
Rationale: Changing the course title reflects better the content of the course, which addresses sports reporting across media. Previously, the course was aligned with the “Inside the Vandals” TV show and students were allowed to repeat the course once since the course content would change to reflect the new content of the TV program each season. Since the show was discontinued, the course content is more stable and students will not be able to repeat the course for credit.

3. Make the following changes to the Journalism and Mass Media Undergraduate Curricular Requirements:

No more than 18 credits of journalism and mass media courses from other institutions may be applied to a degree from the School of Journalism and Mass Media. A student may not double major in the School of Journalism and Mass Media.

Courses required in all majors in the School of Journalism and Mass Media:
COMM 101 Fundamentals Public Speaking 2 cr
JAMM 100 Media and Society 3 cr
JAMM 121 Media Writing 3 cr
JAMM 122 Multimedia Storytelling 1 cr
JAMM 341 Mass Media Ethics 3 cr
JAMM 448 Law of Mass Media 3 cr

Two of the following courses:
JAMM 339 Crime and the Media 3 cr
JAMM 340 Cultural Diversity and the Media 3 cr
JAMM 378 American Television Genres 3 cr
JAMM 379 Hollywood Portrayals of Journalists 3 cr
JAMM 426 Narrative Journalism 3 cr
JAMM 440 Critical Issues in Mass Media 3 cr
JAMM 446 Women in the Media 3 cr
JAMM 443 Media Management and Economics 3 cr
JAMM 444 Mass Media and Public Opinion 3 cr
JAMM 445 History of Mass Media 3 cr
JAMM 465 Political Advertising 3 cr
JAMM 477 Documentary Film 3 cr
JAMM 490 Global Media 3 cr

Electives in Journalism and Mass Media (6 cr):
JAMM Electives in Journalism and Mass Media 6 cr

Electives: Three must be upper division credits.
Students in the School are required to complete at least 15 credit hours within one of the four majors: Advertising; Broadcasting and Digital Media; Journalism; or Public Relations.
Distance Education: 50% or more of curricular requirements cannot be completed via distance

Geographical Area: Moscow

Rationale: This proposal adds the new course JAMM 441, Women in the Media, to the list of approved concepts courses required of all JAMM graduates.

The course will be added to the school's overall assessment protocols.

The course will not add to faculty workload; the course has been taught as a topic in Critical Issues in the Media as part of a regular teaching load and will join a regular rotation of upper-division JAMM electives.

4. Make the following curricular changes to the Major in Film & Television Studies (B.A. or B.S.):

Note: Students must have a 2.5 GPA to major and must attain a 2.5 GPA to graduate with the Film and Television Studies degree.

Prerequisite: ENGL 230 must be completed with a ‘C’ or above before enrolling in other courses in the sequence.

Film and Television Studies is an interdisciplinary degree taught on the film school model, whereby students will learn how to think critically and historically about film and culture while learning the fundamentals of film writing and film making. This degree prepares students to meet the growing demand for digitally fluent and professionally trained multimedia storytelling across the media industries, as well as in public institutions, government, and business. Required course work includes the university requirements (see regulation J-3), the CLASS requirements for the B.A. or B.S. degree, and:

Courses to total 120 credits for this degree

Distance Education: 50% or more of curricular requirements cannot be completed via distance
Geographical Area: Moscow
Rationale: The changes above reflect changes in course numbering and the addition of new elective courses added to the major. The new courses will require no new additional workload.

All elective courses included in the major have been approved by their home departments.

The Film & Television Studies degree will continue to be assessed using its standard assessment protocols.

5. Make the following curricular changes to the Major in Journalism (B.A. or B.S.):

Required course work includes the university requirements (see regulation J-3), the School of Journalism and Mass Media core, and the following:

JAMM 225  Reporting I  3 cr

One of the following (3 cr):

JAMM 322  Broadcast News  3 cr
JAMM 327  Reporting II  3 cr

Nine credits from this list:

JAMM 322  Broadcast News  3 cr
JAMM 323  Sports Reporting  3 cr
JAMM 324  News Editing and Production  3 cr
JAMM 325  Publications Editing  3 cr
JAMM 327  Reporting II  3 cr
JAMM 328  Science Writing  3 cr
JAMM 422  Advanced Broadcast News  3 cr
JAMM 425  Feature Article Writing  3 cr
JAMM 428  Environmental Journalism  3 cr
Courses to total 120 credits for this degree
(Journalism majors are encouraged to pursue their studies across media, including print, broadcast and online journalism.)

Distance Education: 50% or more of curricular requirements cannot be completed via distance

Geographical Area: Moscow

Rationale: JAMM is revising each of its four accredited majors to reflect current offerings and industry standards. These changes bring the Journalism curriculum up to date by requiring JAMM 327, Reporting II, so that the course can be used to collect assessment data across Journalism majors.

The Journalism degree will continue to be assessed using the School of Journalism and Mass Media assessment protocols.

MODERN LANGUAGES AND CULTURES

1. Make the following curricular changes to the Major in French (B.A.):

   Required course work includes the university requirements (see regulation J-3), the general requirements for the B.A. degree, and:

   An international experience (eight week minimum) and the course work listed below are required of students. This international experience requirement will be fulfilled by completing a MLC approved study abroad program or international internship or faculty-led experience or a combination of all. This experience (completed in French) should take place after the student has finished language study through the intermediate (200) level. The study abroad program or the internship must receive prior approval from the student’s MLC advisor and/or MLC Validation Committee appointed by MLC chair. Shorter international experiences exceptions can be considered by MLC Validation Committee in case of extraordinary financial or family circumstances.

   The French Major consists of a minimum of 36 upper-division credits which must include the following:
   - At least 9 FREN credits must be at the 400-level (9 cr)
   - At least 9 credits must be completed on campus
   - A maximum of 9 FLEN credits out of the 36 may be applied towards the major; the remaining credits must be in FREN
   - A second foreign language (elem & interm or equivalent) (16 cr) or a minor in International Studies (18 cr)*

   Additionally, all majors must complete a 1-credit MLC capstone course based on their international experience and take the Avant’s STAMP (STAndards-based Measurement of Proficiency) exit exam before applying for graduation.

   *Note: This requirement is waived for students with a double major (French plus another major)

   Distance Education: 50% or more of curricular requirements cannot be completed via distance
   Geographical Area: Moscow
   Rationale: A minor in International Studies strengthens the BA’s focus on equipping students with the foreign language skills, cultural competence, and international awareness necessary to thrive in the global economy. In addition, it offers students a third option for completing a BA in French and thus facilitates timely degree completion.

NOTE: The MLC Chair met with Bill Smith on July 25, 2017, to discuss this. He supports this addition of the IS minor to the BA requirements. The MLC Chair confirmed this in a follow-up e-mail sent on July 25, 2017. A second e-mail was sent to Bill Smith on September 14, 2017, indicating the MLC faculty had approved this change and the paperwork would be submitted to the CLASS Curriculum Committee.

2. Make the following curricular changes to the Major in Spanish (B.A.):

   Required course work includes the university requirements (see regulation J-3), the general requirements for the B.A. degree, and:

   An international experience (eight week minimum) and the course work listed below are required of students. This international experience requirement will be fulfilled by completing a MLC approved study abroad program or international internship or faculty-led experience or a combination of all. Shorter international experiences exceptions can be considered by MLC Validation Committee in case of extraordinary financial or family circumstances.

   The Spanish major consists of a minimum of 36 upper-division credits, which must include the following:
   - SPAN 301, SPAN 302, SPAN 305, and SPAN 306
   - At least 9 SPAN credits must be at the 400-level (9 cr)
   - At least 9 credits must be completed on campus
   - A maximum of 9 FLEN credits out of the 36 may be applied towards the major; the remaining must be in SPAN
   - A second foreign language (elem & interm or equivalent) (16 cr) or a minor in International Studies (18 cr)*

   Additionally, all majors must complete a 1-credit MLC capstone course based on their international experience and take the Avant’s STAMP (STAndards-based Measurement of Proficiency) exit exam before applying for graduation.

MUSIC

1. Change the following course:

MusT 466 Marching Band Techniques (1 cr)
Techniques of drilling; materials for field and street maneuvers; preparation of shows. (Fall only)
Prereq: MusC 142
Prereq or Coreq: MusA 119/MusA 319 and MusT 383; or Permission

Available via distance: No
Geographical Area: Moscow
Rationale: The change would enable more flexibility in a complex and full curriculum; the B.Mus. in Instrumental Music Education is at least 130 credits. The current instructor is agreeable to this change.

2. Make the following curricular changes to the Musical Theatre Minor:

Available via distance: No

Rationale: Starting with the 2016-17 catalog, MusA 180 Opera/Musical Theatre Studio was added to the pre-existing MusA 380 Opera/Musical Theatre Studio to enable first-year students to take the course without an override, but MusA 180 is not specifically listed as a fulfilling a requirement of the Musical Theatre Minor, and students now need a sub/waive form. The proposed change corrects the catalog omission.

Music electives
To reach a total of 78 credits in Music.

Courses to total 120 credits for this degree

Distance Education: 50% or more of curricular requirements cannot be completed via distance

Geographical Area: Moscow

Rationale:
1. This proposal allows keyboard performance majors to choose a jazz ensemble as well as chamber music for two credits of their ensemble requirements; the piano faculty is in favor of providing this flexibility, as it provides a similar level of performance experience.
2. MusA 366 has not been offered since 2009 and is not likely to be offered in the future; thus, it should not be listed a course fulfilling degree requirements.
3. Guitar students benefit from experience in any ensemble, and many have a special interest in jazz. The current guitar instructor is in favor of provided more flexibility to their ensemble requirements.
4. Starting with the 2016-17 catalog, MusA 180 Opera/Musical Theatre Studio was added to the pre-existing MusA 380 Opera/Musical Theatre Studio to enable first-year students to take the course without an override, but MusA 180 is not specifically listed as a fulfilling a requirement of the B.Mus. Music Performance: Vocal major, and students currently need a sub/waive form. The proposed change corrects the catalog omission.

4. Make the following curricular changes to the General Requirements for all B.A., B.S., and B.Mus. Degrees:

Upper-Division Standing (UDS). For a B.Mus., B.A. and B.S. music major to enroll in MUSA 324, MUSA 334, or MUSC 425, the student must have been granted upper-division standing (UDS). Students applying for UDS must:

1. have completed with a "C" or better, or be currently enrolled in one semester of MUSA 115 Studio Instruction and three semesters of MUSA 124 or MUSA 134 Studio Instruction depending on the student's degree program, MUSC 242 Music Theory IV, MUSH 111 Introduction to Music Literature and the courses listed in one of the following scenarios: (A). MUSA 246 Class Piano and MUSC 240 Aural Skills IV; (B). MUSA 146 Class Piano and MUSC 240 Aural Skills IV; or (C). MUSA 246 Class Piano and MUSC 140 Aural Skills II

2. have passed a special jury examination demonstrating mastery of the fundamentals of the student's major area of performance/composition and the potential to continue improving in a manner that will lead to the successful completion of performance/composition requirements of the degree and major emphasis (the jury examination requirement must be met, regardless of double majors, before a student can enroll in MUSA 324 or MUSA 334).

Transfer students with at least two years of college study as a music major and double majors with one major outside of music may apply for UDS if they have at least one year of music theory, aural skills and piano, one semester of music history, four semesters of studio instruction at the music major level and the approval of the studio instructor or area coordinator in the case of voice and keyboard. An Upper Division Standing jury examination presented after the second/third week will not count towards the semester in which it was presented. Students who fail to pass the UDS requirements within two/three tries are ineligible to continue to pursue a music major.

In order to register for upper-division music education courses (not including instrumental techniques courses), an undergraduate music education major must: (1) make application to upper-division music education courses by completing and submitting an application form (available in the music office) to the chair of the Music Education Committee—he/she must resubmit a music education application form; (2) successfully complete EDCI 201 and the necessary core courses to meet the requirements of the application to Teacher Education in the College of Education; (3) obtain a "C" or better in music courses and at least a 2.5 overall GPA; and (4) pass the studio instruction upper-division standing jury.

Diagnostic Exam in Theory and Aural Skills. The goal of these exams, required for all transfer students whose major is music, is to place advise transfer students in the appropriate level of music theory, aural skills, and piano according to their abilities regardless of their prior theory training; this exam is not available to first-year students freshmen. A study guide is available on the web. The exams are given during the first week of classes each semester, as needed. The exam will not be used for "advanced placement" or "credit by examination," as the regulations regarding these procedures are covered in regulation D-4. Written evaluation of each student's achievement will be placed in his or her advising file, and the students will be admitted to required courses at their ability level counseled appropriately.
Distance Education: 50% or more of curricular requirements cannot be completed via distance

Geographical Area: Moscow

Rationale: Upper-Division Standing: The proposal makes explicit the requirement of one semester of MUSA 115 and three semesters of MUSA 124 or 134 before applying for UDS and corrects the timeline for transfer students, who often apply for UDS at the beginning of their first semester at the U of I, but the application must occur during the add/drop period in the first two weeks of classes, not in the first three weeks of class.

Giving students three attempts at UDS allows lagging students to waste their own time and that of studio instructors; two attempts is sufficient to correct deficiencies for students who are capable of addressing them.

The Music Education UDS procedure has not been followed in years, is difficult to monitor or document, and is redundant, as these students must pass two other rigorous barriers: (1) their UDS jury in studio instruction, and (2) admission to the teacher training program in the College of Education.

The application for Upper Division Standing as described in the catalog is a long-standing and rigorous process. Composition majors submit a portfolio of their work to a panel of faculty and submit to an oral examination; others perform a 30-minute jury including an oral examination.

Diagnostic Exam: In the past, some transfer students have neglected to take this exam and refused to take LHSOM courses that would provide them with skills we expect of our graduates. Additionally, we have not assessed transfer students on their piano skills, an area of expertise required for everyone in the profession. We have now cancelled our general articulation agreements in music theory, aural skills, and class piano with other institutions and will honor transfer credit on a case-by-case basis. Required exams will enable us to place students appropriately and address deficiencies in their musical knowledge and abilities.

POLITICS AND PHILOSOPHY

1. Remove the following course from Dormancy:

   PolS 557 Governmental Budgeting (3 cr)
   Theory and practice of budgeting in a political environment; focus on potentials and limitations of various budgeting systems, particular viz the federal experience.

   Available via distance: Yes

Available via distance: No

Geographical Area: Moscow

Rationale: This course is a specialization of a newly hired faculty member and will be taught regularly. It also fulfills an elective requirement for the Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies (pending name change) minor from when it was previously in the catalogue.

3. Add the following courses:

Phil 352 Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (3 cr)
Same as POLS 352. This course will introduce students to the topics and methods of Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (PPE). The approach will be interdisciplinary, with the aim of investigating and illustrating how and why these three disciplines are indispensable to addressing both the normative and factual issues each poses on its own. The course will cover basic methods in rational choice theory, game theory, social choice theory, and political philosophy to explore problems pertaining to decision-making, coordination, cooperation, and justice. The texts will include both traditional and contemporary writings on these issues.

Available via distance: No

Geographical Area: Moscow

Rationale: The Department of Politics and Philosophy intends to create a PPE minor in the near future—the curriculum plan will be submitted in the fall of 2018 to be implemented in 2019-20. This course will serve as the gateway course for that minor. It will be taught by Dr. Graham Hubbs, who is an active member of the PPE Society (http://ppesociety.web.unc.edu/). Dr. Hubbs may need to stop teaching one of the courses he regularly teaches in the Department’s history of philosophy sequence (PHIL 320/PHIL 321); several other members of the Department are qualified to teach this class instead.

POLS 352 Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (3 cr)

POLS 384 African Politics (3 cr)
See IS 384.

- Available via distance: No
- Geographical Area: Moscow
- Rationale: This course will be created to allow cross-listing with IS 384. IS 384 (African Politics) is a specialization of a newly-hired faculty member, and will be taught by International Studies on a regular basis. It fits into the Comparative and International Politics emphasis within Political Science.

POLS 565 Local Government Law (3 cr)
The course examines the major legal issues involving local government, including tax and spending, public employment contracts, delivery of services and tort liability. Also covered are the relationship problems such as inter-local conflicts and the manner in which state governments and the federal government impact local government. This course also will provide practical instruction on the functions and procedures of municipal governing bodies, municipal courts, and planning and zoning boards.

- Available via distance: Yes
- Geographical Area: Moscow
- Rationale: This course has been taught as a special topics course and has been successfully enrolled. The Master of Public Administration (MPA) degree is for students interested in careers in the governance and management of local governments and communities. Hence this course will be added to the MPA core curriculum. It may also be taken for credit by law students in our JD/MPA program.

4. Change the following course:

POLS 555 Seminar in Administrative Theory (Public Administration Theory) (3 cr)
Major writers in administrative public administration theory and concepts such as leadership, supervision, authority, decision-making, and human relations. (Alt/yr)

- Available via distance: Yes
- Geographical Area: Moscow
- Rationale: The new name, Public Administration Theory, accurately reflects the course content and the Master of Public Administration program.

5. Drop the following course:

POLS 560 Seminar in Public Administration Professional Practice (3 cr)
This course provides students with practical information and skills that are needed to support careers in local government administration. Topics will include professionalism, computer skills, resume writing, interview and presentation skills.

- Available via distance: No
- Geographical Area: Moscow
Rationale: The Practicum in Public Administration was designed to provide pre-service students with practical skills for professional practice. This course has several problems: 1) it conflicts with our online program – hence, on line students would have a different curriculum than our on-campus students; 2) its one credit hour format creates a built in overload for one member of the PA faculty; and 3) we deliver the content from this course in other courses.

2. Change the following course:

For centuries people have puzzled and argued about the question, "What makes us prosperous?" Along with the different answers, people have also derived different ways to gauge societies' successes and failures at attaining prosperity. This class looks at some of the main ways people have cleverly answered questions about prosperity and how it can be measured. In doing so, we will develop our own measures for understanding how prosperous the US and other societies are. One common measure of prosperity is to examine the social stratification, namely the degree to which social classes experience unequal life chances. We will consider our own ideas about what prosperity is, how it can be encouraged, and what needs to change. This course investigates how United States' institutions create and maintain conditions of economic inequality and injustice. Various angles of inquiry include the unequal distribution of wealth amongst different social groups, the rising power of financial institutions, the prevalence of housing insecurity, the causes and consequences of consumer indebtedness and bankruptcy, and unequal community development.

Prereq: Soc 101 or Instructor Permission

Available via distance: No
Geographical Area: Moscow
Rationale: This course fulfills requirements for majors and minors within this department. The title change for this course is an effort to draw more attention to a course that has fairly small enrollment. This title change also allows a variety of faculty to build courses that draw on their research strengths in sociology of economic justice.

Finally, these changes reflect the correction of mistakes in the online catalogue.

With prior approval of the Women's and Gender Studies committee, a student may also include credit from survey courses, special topics courses, or seminars meeting the guidelines for inclusion of courses in a Women's and Gender Studies minor. No more than 3 credits may count toward both the student’s major and minor.

Distance Education: 50% or more of curricular requirements cannot be completed via distance

Geographical Area: Moscow

Rationale: Minor Program Title Change and Course Prefix: A majority of Affiliate Faculty for Women’s and Gender Studies voted in favor of changing the Minor Program Title to expand the program’s inclusivity for University of Idaho students and to reflect courses and course content that are increasingly available at University of Idaho.

To create consistency between the Minor Program Title and Course Prefixes within the Minor Program, we want to change the prefix from “WMST” to “WGSS.”

Course Additions to Curriculum update offerings, which reflect the growth of faculty and disciplinary contributions in the areas of Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies.

Affiliate Faculty wish to remove the requirement that “No more than 3 credits may count toward both the student's major and minor.” We wish to move toward a program that enables student completion of the minor, which allows them to focus on Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies within their majors and receive recognition for this specialization. The program still requires that students take electives from at least three disciplines.

These changes strengthen the coherence of our program mission and improves students’ chances at successful and timely completion.
