

Your Current Journey – Final Reflective Write

Every Journey had an ending. In this reflective write, as you are about to complete this year on a new educational pilgrimage and rite of passage, address every journeyer's Big Questions:

Who are you?

Where did you come from?

Why are you here?

Where are you going?

What are you going to do with that which you have gained along your journey?

Limit your response to a page of text or imagery, attempting to tell a story, doing a drawing, sharing a poem, providing a formal response, or submitting some other form of communication that addresses these questions.
