Moral / Spiritual Models of Substance Abuse

Psychology 470
Introduction to Chemical Addictions
Steven E. Meier, Ph.D.

Listen to the audio lecture while viewing these slides

Moral / Religious Models

- Have been around a long time
- Are different than other models. Relates to the human spirit
- The spirit is what makes us different from animals
- Has been discussed by many philosophers over the centuries.
- Addiction was the result of a spiritual flaw within the individual

Early Models

- In the beginning most spiritual models were associated with alcoholism
- Contended that alcoholism was caused by a lack of morality.
- Alcohol does not cause the addiction, instead the person becomes addicted because of what they consider to be important and what they believe.
- Generally was a sin against God
- Also were associated with some character defect.
  - Person has some moral weakness and they drink

Later

- Models contended the compounds impact you spiritually and psycho-socially.
- Result, the use of compounds becomes acceptable behavior
- Generally the person becomes morally insane
- Drugs become more important than all other aspects of behavior and commitments.
  - Person’s life becomes totally self-centered around drugs.

Result

- Person begins to use many defense mechanisms to justify the narrow range of interests to themselves and others
- Renounces more and more of themselves in favor of new beliefs and behaviors that allow them to use drugs.
Internal communication

- Nothing is too great,
- No price is too high
- No behavior is unthinkable

Result

- Person lies, cheats, steals to maintain their addiction.
- Sells all of their possessions
- Steals from parents, others
- Takes medications from others
- Everything is sacrificed including their body for drugs
- Everything revolves around the addict

Four Defense Mechanisms

- Denial
  - Prevents the person from being aware of the problems associated with use.
  - Helps reduce anxiety
  - Person generally has selective perception.

Four Defense Mechanisms

- Projection
  - Blame others for things you do.
- Rationalization
  - Justify the feelings, motives, and behaviors for things that are unreasonable.
  - Blame some incident for causing you to become an addict.
- Minimization
  - Uses techniques to minimize the amount of compounds you are using
    - Pour drinks into an oversized container.
    - Drink only in the evening

Problem

- The person may not be addicted
  - If a person says they do not have a problem, counselors often assume they are in denial
  - Result – is a confirmation the person has a problem but in reality they may actually not have a problem.
  - Need to have a solid and accurate assessment

Other Problems

- Difficult to analyze spirituality
- Models often have problems with validity and reliability
  - Especially the use of psychoanalytic model concepts
Result

- Two Groups
  - Spirituality is dismissed by most academics and therapists as the essential component of addiction.
  - Not dismissed by many individuals in society
    Not dismissed by many addictions counselors
- Models still have an effect in creation of public policy, funding, etc. for substance abuse.