

Humour: A Lens for the Architectural and Urban Historian

Figure 1.3 Self-portrait caricature by the Danish architect Vilhelm Dahlerup on his return from two years of studying abroad, 1866. The accompanying text in a letter to his teacher Emmerik Høegh-Guldberg reads: 'Now, I only need something to begin with at home, you get so splendidly full of the idyllic new works of art that eventually it must come to independent production.' Wikimedia Commons.

Sketch Exercises:

Fill your head with architectural ideas!

Build drawing skills: townscape sketching

