

THIS WEEK AT THE CENTER FOR ETHICS*

Friday, January 22, 2010

Paper Out for Review

- A position paper written by Dr. Heather Van Mullem and Dr. Sharon Kay Stoll is in final stages of review for the National Association of Girls and Women's Sports in their NAGWS Position Paper Series. Titled, Women Coaching Women – A Model for Sports(wo)manship? NAGWS strives to be one of the premiere organizations dedicated to advocacy, education and the promotion of girls and women in sport. NAGWS is one of seven associations within the largest professional physical activity alliance in the US. AAHPERD promotes and supports leadership, research, education, and best practices in the professions that support creative, healthy, and active lifestyles.

Presentation Accepted NASSM

- Dr. Peter VanMullem of St. Cloud University and Dr. Stoll had a paper accepted for presentation at the 2010 National American Society for Sport Management conference in Tampa, F. June 1-5. Acceptance rate was at 64%. Titled, "Assisting Sport Managers in Making Ethical Decision through a Proven Online Course", the paper is a result of Dr. VanMullem's dissertation at the University of Idaho. Dr. VanMullem is Dr. Stoll's is 17th of 19 completed doctoral students.

References Out

- Dr. Stoll wrote two letters of reference for students attempting to enter either doctoral or master degree programs, Morgan Crabtree and Katie Colvin.

Data Out

- Data went out to Waterford High School, Waterford, Connecticut. As part of the Center's continuing work with Winning With Character, data is analyzed on the growth in change of moral reasoning in intervention programs provided by WWC.

Up Coming Events

- Dr. Stoll has been invited by Phi Kappa Phi to attend the national convention in August of 2010, all expenses paid, to represent the University of Idaho Chapter as an outstanding chapter of merit. Dr. Stoll is president of Phi Kappa Phi, Chapter 79.
- Dr. Jennifer M. Beller – affiliate member of the Center and Associate Professor at Washington State University, has been asked to speak at the Fourth Annual Pacific Lutheran University Wang Center for Global Education 2010 International Symposium Understanding the World Through Sports and Recreation Thursday and Friday, March 4 and 5, 2010. Dr. Beller will be speaking on the intersection between performance enhancing drugs in sport and the use of performance enhancing measures by the boomer generation.