

THIS WEEK AT THE CENTER FOR ETHICS*

Friday, April 30, 2010

Interview with Howie Stallwick

- Dr. Stoll was interviewed by Howie Stallwick, a freelance reporter from Spokane who is doing an article on moral reasoning in sport. Mr. Stallwick was at the center for 2 hours on Thursday.

Dr. Beller Grant Reviewer for U.S. Dept. of Education

- Dr. Beller, affiliate with the Center and an Associate Professor at Washington State University, is reviewing 11 grant applications in this cycle as an expert reviewer for the U.S. Department of Education.

Culp on Thesis Committee

- Doctoral student Clinton Culp is a thesis committee member for Rachel Woita, M.S. Natural Resources. Her thesis, "Understanding the relationship between risk perception and preparedness among backcountry campers in Glacier National Park," was defended on April 28. Ms. Woita passed. Mr. Culp is the first doctoral student at the Center who has sat on a thesis defense.

West Park Elementary School Service Program

- Doctoral student Susan Steele, who as the Volunteer Coordinator, was a major player in West Park Elementary School, Moscow, ID in winning Exemplary status for 2009-2010 by the Idaho State Accreditation committee of the Northwest Association of Accredited Schools. Susan recruits, coordinates, trains and supervises 175-200 individuals each semester who volunteer over 2000 hours of service to the school.

Blog, "Would you cheat for $385,000?"

- Tom Grant, doctoral student, put out another blog, "Would you cheat for $385,000?" <http://ethicswithdoc.blogspot.com>

Lessons to Strong Foundation

- Doctoral student Susan Steele and Dr. Stoll wrote six more lessons for the Strong Foundation. The text about Little Eagle is written for character education in afterschool programs for 3rd to 5th grades. The Strong Foundation, founded by Mac Strong, formerly of the Seahawks, is a non-profit focused on afterschool programs for Native American children. The center, in collaboration with Winning with Character, has been assisting on this project by writing the pedagogy to support the story line written by Zoe Higheagle Strong.

Celebration of Teaching

- Dr. Stoll presented at the 2010 Celebration of Teaching at the University of Idaho on Saturday, April 24. Her titled presentation was: Sexting – The Ethical Dilemma of Teaching the Digital Generation.

Up Coming Events

- Dr. Stoll has been invited by Phi Kappa Phi to attend the national convention in August of 2010, all expenses paid, to represent the University of Idaho Chapter as an outstanding chapter of merit. Dr. Stoll is president of Phi Kappa Phi, Chapter 79.
- Dr. Stoll and Dr. Van Mullem, Dr. Stoll's 17th finished doctoral student who is an assistant professor at St. Cloud University, are scheduled to present at the 2010 North American Society for Sport Management in May in Tampa, FL. Dr. VanMullem is also presenting on using online blogs to enhance classroom discussion.
- Dr. Stoll as a member of the PPRSC of AAHPERD, will be traveling to Washington, D.C., for a planning meeting June 24-26, 2010.