

Ethical Theory and Honor in Competition and Sport

RIGHT WRONG

The Center for ETHICS* at the University of Idaho offers study, intervention, outreach, consultation, and leadership in developing and advancing the theory, knowledge and understanding of character education including moral and ethical reasoning, moral development, ethical leadership, and ethical application. The Director of the Center for ETHICS* is Dr. Sharon Kay Stoll.

Dissertation Proposal

Andrea Lyons, Ph.D. Candidate, presented her proposal for her dissertation titled Student-Athlete Involvement at a Northwestern University to her committee this week. Her committee members are Dr. Sharon Kay Stoll, Professor and Director of the University of Idaho's Center for ETHICS, Dr. Jennifer M. Beller, Associate Professor of Education at Washington State University and Affiliate Associate Faculty Member for the University of Idaho's Center for ETHICS, Dr. Susan Steele, Director of Academic Services for University of Idaho Athletics, and Dr. Justin Barnes, Assistant Professor of Advertising, School of Journalism and Mass Media, University of Idaho. Her committee accepted her proposal and she now moves forward in her dissertation process.

Dr. Pete Van Mullem

Dr. Pete Van Mullem had an article published in Strategies titled: Effective Strategies for Communicating with Parents in Sport. He has offered to share that article with us here at the Center for ETHICS and it can be found on Taylor & Francis.

Van Mullem, P., & Cole, M. (2015). Effective strategies for communicating with parents in sport. Strategies, 28(1), 13-17.

David Ruiz, PhD Student

David Ruiz, Dr. Stoll's 34th doctoral student, has been appointed as an Exam Item Writer on the Board of Certification Exam Development Committee, the committee responsible for developing the certification exam for entry-level Athletic Trainers. David has also been appointed as a committee member to the National Athletic Trainers' Association's Manual Therapy Certificate Work Group. The work group will be developing and implementing a manual therapy certificate for ATs. The manual therapy certificate will be an advanced level certificate and is the first of its kind for athletic training.