

Ethical Theory and Honor in Competition and Sport

RIGHT WRONG

The Center for ETHICS* at the University of Idaho offers study, intervention, outreach, consultation, and leadership in developing and advancing the theory, knowledge and understanding of character education including moral and ethical reasoning, moral development, ethical leadership, and ethical application. The Director of the Center for ETHICS* is Dr. Sharon Kay Stoll.

BB King:

Dr. Cheryl Weiss, former student of Dr. Damon Burton at the Idaho and former graduate assistant in the Center for ETHICS*, directed the BB King All-Stars Children's choir, that sang for the B.B.King funeral in Indianola, Mississippi. To hear Dr. Weiss' children's choir which is based in the BB King Museum as well as a combined choir with the Merritt Junior High School choir singing with a recording of B.B. King, scroll over to 1:12:30. This combined choir sings again at 1:23:00. Dr. Weiss received her Ph.D. with an emphasis in sport psychology, which she uses in her chosen profession as a professional musician and choir mistress in Mississippi. This is a one in a lifetime experience, and Dr. Weiss was there – a student of ours - we are proud☺.

Dr. Stoll, as a member of the Review Board, submitted a review to Quest. Quest is the leading scholarly journal for professionals in kinesiology and physical education in higher education today. Noted scholars in our field write about challenging issues and concern facing professional in higher education crossing disciplinary boundaries.

Dr. Stoll has been asked to write a "History of Philosophy of Sport" for the Encyclopedia of Educational Philosophy and Theory (EEPAT) published by Springer. The Encyclopedia of Educational Philosophy and Theory (EEPAT) was founded in 1999 under the title of Encyclopedia of Philosophy of Education. It is a dynamic study space for students, teachers, researchers and professionals in the field of education, philosophy and social sciences, offering theoretically concurrent expositions of the topics of theoretical and practical interest in philosophy and education. This new project (as of December, 2014) is a Springer initiative and will build the current 85 entries to 400 plus in a dynamic web platform, e-copy and hard copy, with additions and updates every two years. This Encyclopedia is intended to be a comprehensive reference for all aspects of educational theory and philosophy.

This Week at the Center will be on hiatus for the summer. Monthly reports will be sent as information about the Center becomes available.
